J.Lo's shower!

NYC's Gramercy Park Hotel held a blue and pink baby shower for Jennifer Lopez and hubby Marc Anthony on Jan. 19. Family and celeb friends like Leah Remini and Roberto Cavalli attended, and father-to-be Marc Anthony stayed for about two hours. J.Lo was the last to leave! "She was glowing and so happy," a witness tells OK! "She had a wonderful time." Jennifer, 38, and Marc, 39, are reportedly expecting twins any day now.

Kerry Washington posed in an emerald one-shoulder Marchesa gown and a crystal Daniel Swarovski clutch.

Becki Newton kept it edgy in this Matthew Williamson animal-print dress. Gara Danielle cuffs and intricate earrings adorned.

Alicia Keys was a vision at the BET Honors gala in a Naeem Khan number. A sparkly Daniel Swarovski purse matched her neckline.

Style Tips

Q Who has the most wearable celebrity fashion line?

A Sarah Jessica Parker's Bitten line is great because it's so affordable. It allows people to have fun with fashion and not break the bank. Fashion is supposed to be fun, not worry you that American Express is going to call after-hours.

Reader's question

Q Is wearing high heels bad for my feet?

A I'm not a licensed podiatrist, but I think as long as you're comfortable in them, it's fine. Everyone looks better in heels!

Q Which celebrity embodies the term "fashionista" right now?

A Sienna Miller always takes risks and looks so incredibly chic. She can go from boho to Audrey Hepburn; she's a great mix-and-match person. Dressing is all about mixing the Target with the Chloé and pulling it all together to create a personal style.

Animated Angelina

Angelina Jolie may have been taking time off to spend with her family — she enjoyed a Jan. 20 date night with Brad Pitt at Il Ristorante di Giorgio Baldi in Santa Monica — but the actress, 32, is ready to get back to work.

After lending her voice to three cartoon movies, she and Brad, 43, are scouting for a new project for Brad's production company, Plan B, and this one will be animated. "Angelina wants to do something her kids can watch," a Jolie-Pitt family friend tells OK!. "Maddox is never more proud of his mother then when he gets to brag about her in a movie all his friends have seen."

Angelina seems to enjoy a good 'toon: She played Lola in 2004's Shark Tale, appeared (naked) as Grendel's mother in the CGI flick Beowulf, and has completed a fighting turn as Master Tigress for the upcoming Kung Fu Panda. The source says another animated film would give Angie ample time to herself while she and Brad try for another baby. "She could easily voice a character without worrying about an ever-expanding waistline," the source adds. We look forward to seeing Angie onscreen, as pretty as a picture!

Angelina and Brad have a date night in Santa Monica on Jan. 20.

Tyra & John are a 'good match'

Has model mogul Tyra Banks finally found America's top man? It seems so! Tyra, 34, and her banker boyfriend of six months, John Utendahl, 50, are finally making their relationship public, and not a moment too soon. "They are a good match," runway coach and America's Next Top Model judge J. Alexander tells OK!. Tyra recently fought back against rumors that she moved The Tyra Banks Show to New York solely to be near John. "He has his thing going on, and she has hers. They're on the same level," J. says. And while he wasn't referring to their height, he adds, "John's at least 6 feet 6 inches!" Perhaps Tyra — no slouch at 5 feet 10 inches — has found a man to look up to?

Josh: no regrets

Heartthrob Josh Hartnett isn't having any relationship remorse over his 2007 split from Scarlett Johansson, 23. At NYC's Black & White bar on Jan. 16, Josh, 29, told friends, "I don't regret it — we grew apart." Josh also appears to have moved on to Kirsten Dunst, 25. An eyewitness spotted the pair cuddling and holding hands at the Village at the Yard in Utah during Sundance on Jan. 19, before leaving together.

Surprise look-alikes

James McAvoy

Gregory Smith

Double take! Which one is Everwood's resident hunk Gregory, 24, and which is Atonement's James, 28, aka Angelina's co-star in the upcoming assassin thriller Wanted?

Justin's next role: movie director?

Everyone knows that Justin Timberlake has caught the Hollywood bug: Who could forget his stellar turns in Shrek the Third last year, or 2006's Black Snake Moan? But in addition to singing, dancing and acting, JT, 27, is taking his triple-threat status to another level: He is becoming a documentary filmmaker.

FutureSex/LoveShow tour mate Natasha Bedingfield (inset), 26, tells OK!, "Justin's production assistant is his cousin, and while he was onstage, she'd be filming him, and they'd make their own little movies." We're waiting with bated breath to see JT's Midas touch deliver movie gold.

Fact or fiction?

Fiction!

Matthew Perry and House star Jennifer Morrison are dating.

Jennifer put the kibosh on rumors that she's dating Matthew, 39, after they hit it off at a GQ party in December. "He's a good friend. No, no, he's a friend. He's great," the actress, 28, told OK! at the Cloverfield premiere on Jan. 16.

Colin Farrell is watching his weight.

Colin was offered the chocolate treat Sweetriot at the Sundance Film Festival the weekend of Jan. 18, but he said no! He told founder Sarah Endline, "Sorry, sweetie, but I'm on a diet."

Fact!

American Idol contestant has a history with Britney.

Golden Ticket winner Kristy Lee Cook, 24, became Superstar Spears' (Brit's production company) first client in 2001. Brit even planned a cameo appearance in her first video, but Kristy, then 17, was dropped before her debut album was released.

Fact!

'John Connor' dating dancer

Up-and-comer Thomas Dekker is one of the stars who has made Fox's Terminator: The Sarah Connor Chronicles TV's most buzzed-about new show. But female fans will be disappointed to discover that the 20-year-old is taken. Thomas confides to OK!, "My girlfriend is a modern dancer, and we've been dating for a long time now, since I was 15," he says of Sydney Freggiaro (left, with Thomas). Thomas, whose character is the future leader of mankind and is constantly running for his life on the show, says he and Sydney share the creative impulse. "She is an artist and so am I," he says. The actor, who appeared on Heroes, shared the secret of his relationship. "I think it's important for you to both have the same level of being driven," he explains. "If you're good-looking but you have nothing going on up there, it's boring." We agree, Thomas!

Lindsay to write her memoir

Lindsay Lohan's life thus far could fill 1,000 diaries — and she's finally realized that she can capitalize on her vida local! She plans on penning her autobiography on the trials and tribulations of being a Hollywood "it" girl, a source tells OK!. "She wants it to be reminiscent of Drew Barrymore's Little Girl Lost, which is about struggling with addiction as a child star," the pal confides to OK!. But is this a desire to share her story or is she having money issues? Insiders close to the star say that Lindsay, 21, is so hard up for cash that she even borrowed $10K from Jackass' Steve-O (inset). However, her rep tells OK!, "This is untrue." Meanwhile, have Lindsay and her old nemesis Samantha Ronson reconciled? Lindsay was spotted at Sam's DJ gig at L.A.'s new hot spot Goa on Jan. 17. It's all material for her memoir, after all!

America and Blake still 'sisters'

Is there a rift between America Ferrera and Blake Lively? No way, their Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants co-star Mike Vogel tells OK!. "Nothing ever happens, but the whole world thinks you are at odds," the Cloverfield actor, 28, says. "Those girls truly became good friends." Although America, 23, and Blake, 20 — now the stars of their own shows, Ugly Betty and Gossip Girl — appear in the sequel due out Aug. 8, Mike won't be back until the third installment. "America is an incredible actress," he tells OK!. "Blake was the youngest and in school back then. Now, she can concentrate on her career." • Turn to page 98 to hear more from OK!'s Man Candy Mike.

Paris' man marathon

Paris Hilton knows about love on the run. While partying in Utah during the Sundance Film Festival, sources tell us that Paris made out with three men in three days! On Jan. 18, she smooched and straddled Jared Leto at Hyde's Utah outpost; on Jan. 19, she fell for the charms of actor Simon Rex. But Paris didn't discriminate for boy No. 3 and chose a non-celeb. At the Heineken Green Room on Jan. 20, a source tells OK! Paris ducked into the kitchen for a makeup check, using some pots and pans as a mirror. When an event coordinator, a mystery man, found her, Paris grabbed him and kissed him, according to the source. As a coup de grâce? She demanded he feed her shrimp sushi.

Cam & Jude, just friends

Cameron Diaz isn't ready to jump into a romance with Jude Law again despite being spotted on a second date with her Holiday co-star (pictured on set in 2006, above) on Jan. 13 in NYC. The pair grabbed a slice of cheese pizza together but single-and-loving-it Cameron, 35, was overheard at The Carlyle Hotel earlier that day on her phone talking to a pal about Jude, 35. "You can tell she is playing the dating game with him," the source tells OK!

No KT duet for Katharine

Katharine McPhee may be a fan of Scottish singer KT Tunstall, but the feeling doesn't appear to be mutual. The season five American Idol runner-up, 23, performed KT's hit "Black Horse and the Cherry Tree" on the show, but don't expect to hear a duet anytime soon. "I'm not a big fan of the reality-TV-show-pop-star thing," KT, 32, tells OK!. "It chokes the market in terms of young original talent. There's a strong element of karaoke in pop TV shows. I like artists who fire my imagination."

John & a Minka look-alike?

Are they or aren't they? We bet you're as sick of hearing this question as we are of posing it. After quietly splitting with Minka Kelly, 27, six weeks ago, John Mayer, 30, was spotted partying at Tryst nightclub at the Wynn Las Vegas Hotel on Jan. 19, with someone who was a dead ringer for his ex. Was it the Friday Night Lights star? "Minka was not in Las Vegas and was not with John Mayer," a friend tells OK!. "From the time he arrived at 1 a.m., John was all over the place, jumping up and down and dancing," a Tryst eyewitness tells OK!. "But he would always go and sit with this girl, like he was checking up on her." Whoever she is, one thing is clear: John loves brunettes!

Dennis & Kim thankful

Dennis Quaid, 53, was quite the gentleman with wife Kimberly, 36, at the Sundance Film Festival on the weekend of Jan. 19, opening doors for her and carrying her bags. "At the Marquee-Boost Mobile Lounge, Dennis asked if she could have some jewelry and sneakers," a festivalgoer tells OK! "She was saying she was glad to get away, but was worried about her babies back home," the source says. "Kimberly told friends that it was very draining, but they're thankful everything is working out." Their newborn twins almost died in November from an overdose of a blood-thinning drug.

IT'S OK! TO BE REAL

Stars are just like you!

They buy bedding

A dapper Demi Moore, 45, lugs bags of pillows and blankets out of Seva Home before heading to her office in L.A. on Jan. 10.

They ease the pain

Two and a Half Men star Jon Cryer, 42, stops at a Rite Aid for some Icy Hot in Santa Monica on Jan. 11. "He was in and out in under three minutes," a fellow shopper tells OK!. Quite efficient, Jon!
